Peggy Hickey named Interstate Credit Union Branch Manager

Stacie Branch, President of Interstate Credit Union in Jesup, has announced that Peggy Hickey has joined the credit union as branch manager of the new Baxley office on West Parker Street. Mrs. Hickey is a long time native of Baxley and was born and raised in Appling County. She will serve as branch operations manager and loan officer.

Mrs. Hickey has over 21 years of financial experience in the local area having served as teller, personal banker and lender. She is a Graduate of Appling County Comprehensive High School and the Georgia Banking School at the University of Georgia. In making the announcement, Mrs. Branch said "With Peggy being from the Appling County area and knowing so many of the local people, she has a strong interest in helping Baxley residents and the Appling community. We are excited to have her on board."

Mrs. Hickey is a member of the Jesup Exchange Club and has been involved in Relay for Life. She has three daughters, Dana Covington, April Davis and Amy Owens and is married to Stanley Hickey.

Interstate Credit Union in Baxley recently re-located their Baxley office on South Main Street to the newly built office on West Parker Street and is planning a grand opening on Friday, June 18. The grand opening will include two grand prizes for $250 of free gas, free lunch and a gift card for opening a new checking account. All local residents are invited to attend.

Anyone who lives or works in Appling, Long, Liberty or Wayne Counties may become a member of Interstate Credit Union and open deposit accounts or apply for loans. Interstate Credit Union, which was started in 1968, is a not-for-profit financial institution and has assets of $56 million. Deposits are federally insured by the National Credit Union Administration.
